3. In normal circumstances each "Zastava" consists of thirty men. At headquarters of the "Ouchastuk" (Novrokop) there are about forty men held in reserve. These men are used to reinforce the "Zastavas" in the event of an emergency. At present, all five "Zastavas" have received reinforcements.
4. At headquarters of the "Ouchastuk" there are two German police dogs. The "Zastava" at Libyahovo also has two German police dogs. These dogs are trained to accompany border patrols and to track down border crossers.
5. Each "Zastava" is allotted approximately eight to ten kilometers of the border. The established procedure calls for four groups of two men to be stationed at various places during the day in ambushes. At night these groups consist of three men each. Also, in addition to the ambushes, each "Zastava" sends out two guards, generally accompanied by dogs (if available) to patrol the border proper. The location of the ambushes is changed every day. The old border guard posts (houses) are not manned.
